LIMITED PRODUCT WARRANTY

Taylor Pipe Supports warrants manufactured products for one year from the date of shipment against material defects or workmanship when products are used for the purpose in which they were designed and those products were installed correctly or as recommended.

Taylor Pipe Supports warrants products it sells produced by other manufacturers to the extent of the original manufacturer's warranty.

This limited warranty shall not apply to any product that has been altered or repaired outside of the Taylor Pipe Supports manufacturing facilities, to any product that has been subject to negligence or misuse, to any product that has been used contrary to recommended instructions or the purpose for which it was intended.

Once product is determined defective by a Taylor Pipe Supports representative, in all cases of defective product the amount of the adjustment shall not exceed the original cost or the defective products. No allowance will be made for labour or expense of repairing or replacing the defective product, or for damage resulting from the defective product.
